Halsey's Fleet Smashes Steel Plants At Kamaishi

Fleet Bombs Japan Three Miles Offshore

By ELGAR BROWN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ABOARD USS SOUTH DAKOTA
IN SIGHT OF JAPAN, July 14.—
Surface units of the United States Navy have narrowed to only three miles the distance from their immediate goal—the harbors of the Janese homeland.

I watched in awe today as the sacred soil of Nippon quaked under its first naval bombardment in 82 years.

Powderhouse units of the U. S.
Third Fleet, under effective weather conditions, moved to a point only three miles offshore to hit eastern Honshu with all their firepower.

Reduced To Rubble
Kamaishi, one of the Jap military machine's most treasured industrial centers was reduced to rubble. As we felt high mounds of smoke columns billowing to the sky and fanning out for miles.

Delivery to the foe of nearly 1,000 tons of high explosives was a masterpiece of audacity by Admiral Wilson.

MANILA, July 14.—Veteran Australian troops fanned out today on Borneo's east coast, pressing forward from points as far as 20 miles from Balikpapan.

Collapse of Japanese resistance east of Mangar led to capture of the village of Bangsal by Australian Seventh Division troops. The Aussies registered a four and one half mile gain in effecting the capture.

General Douglas MacArthur announced that spearheads of the Australian forces were 20 miles from Balikpapan on the coastal highway and were continuing their drive.

Push Deeper Inland
Other units of the Aussie forces pushed deeper inland, probing for Japanese strong points in the oil-rich Balikpapan area.

In the northwestern sector of the Australian Ninth Division moved steadily northward along the Jesselton railway.

Typhoon Season Hampers Any Move For Landings

By CAPT. JOHN H. CRAIG
(Written Especially for U. S. S.)

The tremendous typhoon which damaged 21 vessels of Admiral Wilson's fleet, highlights one of the reasons why there will be no American amphibious landings on the main Japanese islands in the near future.

The present height of the typhoon season in the western Pacific.
These tremendous storms,
among the most violent weather disturbances in the world, scourge the coasts of China, Japan and the Philippines from late April to October.

Sometimes the winds rise to 150 miles in velocity. Such reach monitaneous proportions, inflicting terrible damage on shipping exposed to their violence. In the old days of wooden ships, vessels were frequently crushed like egg-shells or completely capsized and flung bottom-upwards by the force of the blast.

Regarded With Dread
Even today, however, regard them with dread. Many a stout modern steel vessel has been sent to the bottom with all hands by one of these raging winds.

Certainly no admiral nor general in his senses would launch a great amphibious expeditionary force in its transports from our bases in the Philippines and Guam against the Japanese islands while such storms

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Four Republican senators filed a minority report today in which they proposed that a general international economic conference be held and that action on the Bretton Woods monetary agreements be postponed until this takes place.

The senators, members of the banking committee, are Taft, Ohio;
Millikin, Col.; Butler, Neb.; and Thomas, Idaho.

Propose Amendment
The senators proposed an amendment to the Bretton Woods legislation, which will be called up for debate in the Senate on Monday, but added:

"Our own view, however, is that the consideration of both the bank and the fund should be postponed until a general international economic conference is held in which the whole economic condition of the world can be considered and practical steps proposed to achieve freedom of international trade."

Fleet And Planes In Joint Bombing Of Jap Steel Center

(BULLETIN)

GUAM, July 14.—(INS)—Admiral William F. "Bull" Halsey's third fleet steamed audaciously and defiantly along Japanese coastal waters today after leaving the steel mills of Kamaishi, 275 miles north of Tokyo, in twisted rubble from a thunderous two-hour bombardment.

The city was shrouded in heavy smoke which reached thousands of feet into the grey skies.

In the two hours of shelling — the most significant two hours in the Pacific war — a surface force of at least nine warships delivered nearly 1,000 tons of shells in Kamaishi in the first bombardment of a Japanese home island.

But it was obvious that this blow on Honshu was but the first of many designed to fall on the Mikado's empire.

There was no indication at Pacific fleet headquarters that Halsey's fleet had withdrawn from Japanese waters.

GUAM, July 14.—United States Navy warships bombarded the Jap homeland for the first time today and left the industrial area of Kamaishi covered in dense clouds of smoke rising to thousands of feet.

The history-making two-hour bombardment of the port city of Honshu was coordinated with a 1,000-plane carrier strike at northern Honshu and Hokkaido.

International News Service War Correspondent Elgar Brown said the American warships hurled their shells from a point only three miles from Nippon's coast. Brown witnessed the bombardment from the USS South Dakota.

This indicated the battleships in the force could hurl their big 16-inch shells seventeen miles into the enemy homeland, since their maximum range is considered about twenty miles.

Demolish Steel Mill

The big guns of the American task force comprising at least nine warships completely demolished the Kamaishi steel mill, including blast furnaces and a rolling plant.

Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz reported the damage to Kamaishi and said that other areas were heavily hit and "burning furiously."

Nimitz fourth communiqué with in twelve hours—in itself setting a precedent in the Pacific war—said the damage report was received from Rear Adm. Joseph F. Stathos, commanding the powerful American task force.

Kamaishi was brought under heavy naval gunfire for two hours
the latest communiqué said.
The surface bombardment began shortly before noon following the opening of day-long carrier attacks at dawn. It was the second homeland carrier strike by Adm. William F. "Bull" Halsey's Third Fleet forces within five days.

Taken By Surprise
Both the carrier strikes and surface bombardment were apparently taken by surprise.

The house plans today to adjourn
next Friday or Saturday until Oct.
1, but a wholesale exodus of capitalists was already underway from the capital.

For most members of the house the summer recess had begun and leaders said only a small number were expected to be on hand when the house reconvened Tuesday.

The unofficial recess got under way immediately following the passage of the 769 million dollar war agencies bill which was sent to the White House yesterday.

Most of the members had remained on hand pending disposal of the dispute over continuation of the employment practice committee, which was given $25,000 for August year. The bill also contains funds for 17 other war agencies.

The house will mark time next week waiting for the senate to pass the Bretton Woods monetary agreements. House Minority Leader McCormack (D-Mass.) anticipated that the house-approved legislation will be amended in the senate, thus requiring house concurrence before final passage. He expressed hope that it could be disposed of by Thursday.

Japanese Forces Battle Toward City Of Kweilin

CHUNGKING, July 14.—(INS)— Chinese forces battle today inside the Kweilin province city of Kweilin and toward the outskirts of the Kweilin provincial capital of Kweilin to the southwest. Both cities are former American air bases.

At the same time Chinese War Minister Gen. Chen Cheng announced that Chinese and Allied commanders were studying plans for an all-out offensive against the Japanese.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's columns broke into Kweilin after capturing Tongshan and Fengcheng to the west. Other units drove beyond recaptured Luchang along the Hunan-Kwangsi railway toward Yunfu, southeast of Kweilin.

In the coastal areas Chinese troops operating on Luchow peninsula north of Hainan Island recaptured Tupink. Japanese elements which landed June 30 on the Fukien coast south of Amoy were intercepted while driving toward the their assaults against Japanese

Airmen Facing Many Hazards In Bombing Japan

OKINAWA, July 14.—(INS)—Marine Lieut. Bruce Tuttle revealed for the first time today the hazards American fighter planes encountered in daily attacks on the Japanese homeland.

The marine pilot's father is Arthur Tuttle, treasurer of International Radio Communications in New York City.

"I've seen fighting on lots of Pacific islands," young Tuttle reported, "but nowhere met hazards like on Kyushu, where Kanoya airfield alone has at least 1,000 gun emplacements.

"They throw up the damdest ack-ack barrage I've ever seen. Believe me, the first time a pilot hits that place it makes his throat tighten."

But the 21-year-old Marine veteran added:

"Nevertheless, we bust through to the lowest levels possible, giving them hell with rockets, bombs and machine guns. There's so much stuff there we can't miss doing damage.

"Of course we get hit too but generally manage to return home. I often wonder what happens to our boys who are forced to bail out over the Jap homeland.

"The biggest thrills in these raids are seeing an ammunition or gas dump or planes blow up from our firing. Fighters never come up to meet us. I don't think they can have many but recently I met one while heading home and shot him down easy—just like clay-pigeons."

are to be expected. And they are likely to occur with frequency from now until the end of October or the beginning of November.

According to weather data gathered over the past 40 or 50 years, typhoons are to be expected any time after April 15. The month of May in the past has produced an average of one typhoon-type storm each year. For June the average is three and July hits the high of the year with an average of five storms.

It is not until November that the danger of running into such blasts may be regarded as past.

bank or the international fund will find a place in any permanent, practical solution."

The four G. O. P. senators said that the proposed international bank and stabilization fund are only part of a gigantic relief, lending and investment program in the foreign field planned by the administration.

Huge Funds Planned

The program, they said, includes: Further expenditures by UNRRA—nine hundred million dollars. Relief expenditures by Army—one billion dollars. Lend-lease through FEA—four billion, 375 million dollars. International bank—nine billion, 100 million dollars. International fund—two billion, 500 million dollars. Export-import bank—three billion, 500 million dollars. Total—21 billion, 625 million dollars.

In addition to the foregoing, the report said, "there has been much discussion of a direct loan or gift to Great Britain amounting to from three to five billion dollars and of a direct loan to Russia in the sum of six billion."

Little Benefit to U. S.

The Bretton Woods agreements call for an international bank of nine billion, 100 million in capital and an international fund of eight billion, 800 million dollars. The Republican senators, however, asserted that under the bank plan foreign securities could be sold in this country up to the full amount, even though the American contribution is limited to three billion, 175 million.

The minority senators contended that neither the bank nor the stabilization fund will aid the United States to any great extent.

The senators proposed amendments designed to force foreign nations participating in the stabilization fund to remove artificial money restrictions.

The group also suggested amendment specifically declaring that the stabilization fund cannot be used for the purpose of giving relief to some nations.

Nomination Of Vinson Will Be Made Much Earlier

WASHINGTON, July 14.—(INS)—The White House announced today that President Truman will immediately send to the senate the nomination of War Mobilizer Vinson to be secretary of treasury instead of waiting the chief executive's return from the Potsdam conference.

The disclosure of immediate action was contained in an exchange of letters between Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau, Jr., whom Vinson will replace, and Mr. Truman.

The decision to speed Morgenthau's replacement was made at the latter's suggestion in a letter to the president dated July 13.

PHILADELPHIA.—(INS)—The American petroleum industry smashed all records to turn out approximately 1,677,000,000 barrels of oil in 1944, nine percent more than was produced during the entire five year period of World War I according to J. Howard Pew, president of the Sun Oil Company.

$3 to $5 more per ton. The price now averages about $12.50 a ton for average quality beets.

Sugar supplies in the United States, meantime, remain tight in many areas east of the Mississippi river and in Texas and Oklahoma. West of the Mississippi, except for Texas and Oklahoma, sugar was said to be available in fair quantity.

Food officials explained that the demand for sugar, estimated at eight million tons this year, exceeds the supply which has been tentatively placed at about five million tons. This leaves an overall shortage of about three million tons, they explained.

Civilians purchased some 2,800,000 tons of sugar during the first six months of 1945, officials estimated. For the third, or current, quarter, 1,300,000 tons were allocated.

Thus, of the five million ton year's supply, slightly less than one million tons remain for the October, November, December period, unless the government gains additional supplies in the next month or two.

unopposed by representative Jap forces. If there had been any formidable opposition, it was considered unlikely that the surface forces could have remained for two hours pouring ton after ton of shells into the target area.

Nimitz's fourth confident war bulletin of the day failed to describe the surface action in full detail but it was indicated the historic attack was over and the units were retiring in order.

There was, however, no indication that the carrier-based planes had broken off their action.

Kanishii, object of the epic naval bombardment lies 273 miles north-east of Tokyo and has a population of 42,000.

Japanese imperial headquarters belatedly acknowledged the naval bombardment of Kanishii. The Jap Domei agency transmitted an imperial headquarters' communique which said the bombardment and the carrier strikes were carried out "in concert."

Flourish Japanese
Once again Nimitz flaunted the Japanese by announcing the names of some of the ships in the attack force. Blasting away at the Jap mainland, he said, were the following ships:

The fast battleships Massachusetts, Indiana and South Dakota. The heavy cruisers Chicago and Quince.

The destroyers Southard, Heermann, Erben and Black.

It was the second time during the war that Nimitz has shown his disregard of the Japanese ability to fight back by identifying fleet units engaged in an operation.

The first time was last Tuesday when he named 26 of the ships in the force from which the carrier planes were hurled against the Tokyo area. Nimitz announced today that in the Tuesday raid 340 Jap airplanes were destroyed or damaged on 17 airfields in the Tokyo area.

Halsey's planes destroyed 109 enemy aircraft on the ground near Tokyo and damaged 231.

Free Of Air Opposition Early
The carrier strike in the north today was free of enemy air opposition during the first hours.

Although specific targets of the big ships were not revealed, Kanishii houses the Imperial Iron and Steel works and other important industrial facilities.

Rear Adm. John F. Shafroth of Denver, Colo., was in direct tactical command of the task force of at least nine ships. The three battleships are of the 35,000-ton South Dakota class.

Kanishii is at the head of a bay which provides important anchorage for Japan's dwindling fleet of cargo vessels. Besides the furnaces and rolling mill of the Imperial Iron and Steel works, the city has a large power plant, two electrical substations, and oil storage tanks.

While Halsey's great surface ships pounded the steel plant, his carrier planes were working on the coal mine facilities and shipping that feed the plants.

Adm. F. "Bull" Halsey, 1 witnessed the tremendous bombardment from a post high on this speedy battle-wagon.

In Close Range
Halsey brushed aside "hazards of counter-attacks of Jap suicide planes and motor-boats, shore batteries, floating mines or submarine torpedo attacks to bring Monshu's green bluffs into close range."

Nothing came of these potential perils. The Japs, observing an old custom, were stupor-struck by far-flung carrier-based air attacks which preceded the historic surface show.

This smashing, challenging blow at Kanishii was a portent of worse to come for Japan.

Cleveland Youths Admit Kidnaping Of Truck Driver

ERIE, Pa., July 14.—(INS)—Charges of kidnaping were on the table today against a pair of Cleveland youths who admitted, according to the FBI, the slugging and robbery of an Erie Coach Company employee last Monday night.

The pair, Joseph Olson, 16, 4848 Wendell ave., and Clarence Edwin Reagle, 19, 4434 Down ave., were arrested in Ashtabula, O.

James D. Power, agent in charge of the FBI in western Pennsylvania, said the youths admitted kidnaping Wilbur Kreider, 17, at the point of a revolver and forcing him to drive them from Erie to a spot near Westfield, N. Y. There, according to the federal agent, the pair slugged Kreider, robbed him of $5 and his watch and then drove away in his truck.

Despite the hush-hush atmosphere being built up around the conference, the Germans are aware that their battered capital is the scene of the "big three" meeting because the allied-controlled German radio is keeping them informed.

But the Germans, like the occupation troops, can anticipate only the chance of a fleeting glimpse of the three allied leaders. That is particularly true in the case of Stalin. Only rarely does one encounter a Russian leader who has seen the Russian leader.

BRITISH FLEET GIVES WELCOME TO PRESIDENT

Britain destroyers lined up in columns on each side of the presidential task force.

Two floating mines that had broken from their moorings were sighted.

President Truman, wearing a grey tweed cap and an olive drab weather coat, stood in a 40-millimeter anti-aircraft gun mount on the bridge deck of the Augusta to receive the salute from the British war ships.

The president was up at 6:15 a.m. after retiring around midnight.

You'll Find Your Florist Is Just a Season Ahead

When the snow lies deep on the hills you'll find roses in the florists' shops, when the first breath of spring wakes the world, you'll find gladiolas, and when the summer paints its robust colors on the meadows you'll find flowers of the early fall waiting in the shops.

Always a season ahead. And just now the glorious fall flowers are coming in. A harbinger of cooler weather perhaps, but satisfying in their beauty.

Suicide Of A Nation

In the Pacific the setting is being prepared for decisive action. The Japanese, who observed the developments that led to the prostration of Germany, will have no difficulty in recognizing the processes of preparation for those operations which will end in the devastation and defeat of Japan.

Gathered in the waters off Japan, unhindered by even the threat of aggressive action by the enemy, is what is described by high naval officers as "the greatest mass of sea power ever assembled." It is a force which gives to the Allied command complete confidence in its ability to dominate any situation that may arise. It is so overwhelming that the need of secrecy concerning the identity of elements has passed and the Japanese are informed as to the proportions and the make-up of the great fleet that prowls the home waters.

This is Japan's blackest hour since Pearl Harbor, an hour when it is no longer possible to escape the realization that the power of the enemy is overwhelming, that little can be done to escape the impending doom. There is possibility that the present month or August may see the beginning of the assault by invasion on the home islands of Japan or on the Japanese-held areas of China.

In the destruction of Germany, strategic bombing, it was believed, attained the peak of effectiveness. Every major city in the Reich was razed and industrially Germany was left impotent, unable to produce the implements and materials of war. And Germany was a large target, with an air force which in the beginning possessed great power and what were considered perfect systems of ground defenses.

But not even Germany felt the incessant weight of bombs American planes are dropping on Japan now that the seas that wash the islands have been taken over by the fleet and a thousand planes a day take off from carriers and the island bases gained at a heavy cost.

Admiral Halsey's unprecedented naval operations off Japan suggest impressively the feebleness to which the enemy has been reduced in the air and on the sea. Not a ship appears on the horizon to challenge the assault forces. Not a Jap plane takes to the air as Japanese skies are darkened by the aircraft of the invader.

This is the beginning of the final phase of the suicide of a nation.

Wedding Bells For Prisoners

Italian prisoners of war, at a camp in California, were allowed to go out to parties and dances. Three of them secretly married American girls they met at these affairs recently. The Army, discovering this is a violation of War department regulations, has abruptly separated them from their brides.

The wives, who say they are only a few of many who have married prisoners of war from West Coast camps, declare that "if the Army doesn't want the boys to get married, they shouldn't let them go out to parties as they do."

They have something there. Why all the party-going for the prisoners? Why the pampering all along the line that has characterized our treatment of captured Italian and German soldiers from the first? These clandestine marriages are only to be expected. They and other more serious matters are the natural fruit of the prisoner-handling policy that has prevailed.

Jap Pockets

Australian forces continue to progress in Borneo, with little signs of heavy Jap resistance. That huge island, one of the largest in the world, may soon be in Allied possession, with the exception of interior areas to which the enemy is retreating. Its raw resources, badly needed by Japan—especially petroleum—will alleviate the Allied shipping problem. And Borneo tightens the pincers nipping off the Malay Peninsula, Sumatra, Java and other East Indies conquests.

The British are building up a powerful amphibious force in the Indian Ocean. This should be sufficient to recover Singapore and Malaya and liberate Sumatra and Java. It remains to be seen what the Japs have to fight with in those areas, now practically cut off from reinforcement. Presumably they will be content with partial occupation, maintaining islands of resistance whenever possible.

Japan has these little pockets of resistance scattered all over the Pacific. The Germans had a few along the French, Dutch and Baltic coasts. But Japan is going in for the pocket thing on an unprecedented scale. But they will cause little trouble in the days after Japan's downfall.

Newspapers As Salesmen

The American newspaper remains outstanding as the medium by which merchandise may be offered for public sale.

The American Newspaper Publishing Association through its bureau of advertising has revealed that national advertising alone spent $216,000,000 among daily and Sunday newspapers to get their products before prospective buyers' eyes.

Based on circulation, such expenditures are a matter of cold calculation.

More and more local firms today realize that their business barometer rises and falls in ratio to their advertising. That's why they use the facilities of this newspaper.

The newspaper scarcity has curbed to some degree the service which can be given advertisers, but even so the best brains of the publishing field have made it possible for practically all business houses to make use of newspaper advertising.

When the Pacific war is over the newspaper restraint will have been removed and the press unfettered in its effort to be of supreme service. A great deal of the backlog of merchandise will be presented for sale through the medium of newspapers.

One thing we are looking forward to in the postwar period is getting a seat on a bus.

What the United Nations are trying to prove is that it does not take all kinds of people to make a world.

National Service Act Would Have Been Beneficial

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The bill for the past four years of war is just beginning to come due. We are realizing that little more pay-as-you-go would have been better.

Several times I have written about what seems to me the greatest single threat to our national well-being and security. That is our failure, because of the inroads of the draft, to maintain our scientific education, our research, our medical education, our medical standards. No other country, not even Germany when the drain on manpower was severest just before defeat, made this same error.

Officials of selective service say that they have no choice in the matter. While it is true that they make policy under the selective service act, they say they get their orders from the chiefs of staff for a certain number of men—young men—each month. And they are still finding it difficult to fill the quotas from those who reach 18 years of age.

National Service Act? It would be simpler, they go on to say, if we had a national service act. Under a national service act, such as Britain has had during the war, you can assign a man, or a woman, to do the kind of work for which he or she is best fitted.

But here you may find an excellent research chemist in the perfume industry. Is he to be deferred because of his technical skill, even though his skill is contributing nothing directly to the war effort? Under the British system he might be reassigned to an essential industry, or he might be put to work on a research project or given a "research job."

Because of their national service act, Britain has come much closer to a pay-as-you-go policy than we have. Less human energy has been squandered on non-essentials. Human resources have been concentrated on the main job, while at the same time top policy-makers have been looking out for the long future of Britain.

The same thing is true of money. British tax policy has soaked up more excess money at the lower and medium levels. They have had a plan of forced savings. Therefore they have had less inflation than we have.

Never Brought To Vote At least twice, the secretaries of war and navy, the generals and the admirals went to congress with an urgent plea for national service. So strong was the pressure against it that congress never even brought the issue to a vote.

Organized labor was solidly opposed. One reason was that some advocates of the bill said it would mean the end of strikes. No law, not even under a dictatorship, could stop all strikes. There were strikes under Britain's national service act as the weary grinding years of blackout, bombing and rationing wore down men's patience.

The unions were that some advocates of the bill said it would mean the end of strikes. No law, not even under a dictatorship, could stop all strikes. There were strikes under Britain's national service act as the weary grinding years of blackout, bombing and rationing wore down men's patience.

Under fire from the American Medical Association for shutting off its future supply of doctors by refusing deferment for premed students, selective service officials say that more than enough medical students will be found among the 2,000,000 veterans to be discharged this year. That is their answer to the charge that our present draft policy is jeopardizing the future health of the nation.

In my opinion, that answer is not good enough. They may be right, yet the educational preference of veterans returning up to now does not support their argument. A man who has had three or four years taken out of his life will think a long time before he begins a course of study requiring a minimum of six years before he earns even part of his own living and can begin to think of marriage.

Anyway, it is a gamble. It is a gamble we cannot afford to take with our national future. We never brought ourselves up to a national service act. With such an act, the conservation of our human resources would have been easier. But that failure does not excuse a shortsighted policy which strikes at our future as a nation.

Sun sets tonight 8:09. Sun rises tomorrow 6:03.

Some birds just don't put their fingers in the pie—they take the whole pie.

Some people will learn how to eat roast beef this year with less butter—or no butter at all.

Some singers make up in noise what they lack in voice.

What is the difference between a worm and a flea? A flea is not so particular.

The insurance agent was helping his prospect fill out an application for insurance, and he asked: "Did you have appendicitis?"

"Well," answered the prospect, "I was operated on, but I have never been quite certain whether it was appendicitis or professional curiosity."

Some one proposes higher wages and a lower cost of living. That surely will be interesting.

Falseness finds as many followers as truth.

Perhaps the reason draft boards are ordered to take men with not one eye is that some people still think the marksmen shoot one eye anyhow when he shoots.

The bright young minds in the War Production Board and the War Relocation Authority might get together and figure out how many man-hours are wasted because of people being forced to stand in line at the cigarette counter and the meat counter.

A good product back of the right words makes a good advertisement.

Here's a hint that might save the household meat situation.

Waiter: Do you want a dollar steak or a dollar-and-a-quarter steak?

Diner: What's the difference?

Waiter: You get a sharp knife with the dollar-and-a-quarter steak.

The outside of a crooked deal usually looks favorable.

Crime uses many tools, but the dollar is the handle that fits them all.

I never met a man who loved his enemies, but I know several who say they do.

Have you noticed that people with little intelligence usually have a good digestion?

Hez Heck says: "Ef you want to know how many lars they is in th' community, ask th' assessor."

The housewife who had forgotten her ration book and couldn't get sugar started discussing the situation with the grocer.

How do you account for this sugar shortage?" she asked.

"I dunno, mame," he answered. "Seems to me there's as many people raising Cain as there ever was."

Some men boast that they are broadminded and others behave themselves.

Always getting into hot water will eventually cook your goose.

"My only sin is vanity," murmured the woman as she sat under the permanent wave machine at the beauty shop.

"I look into the mirror every morning and think how beautiful I am."

"That's not a sin, Miss Smith," said Flossie. "That's just a mistake."

No use kidding ourselves. We haven't yet licked the Jap suicide plane, and we've got to invent a better defense before the transports go in.

Great Game Of Politics

New Idea Of Press Is Now Indicated

WASHINGTON, July 14.—A WELL-RECOGNIZED political method of assailing the newspapers, One reason for this is that it is entirely fair. Another is that it is much easier than denying the facts, especially when the facts can be proved.

ALL through the Roosevelt administration, continuous campaign of newspaper disparagement, inaugurated by the President himself was conducted. It was gleefully participated in by the cheaper individuals elevated by him to important official positions. It was an ineffectual affair, because it was so transparent. The absurdity of the charges that the newspaper habitually suppressed news and that they were wholly without influence was demonstrated, first, by the fact that the newspapers invariably printed the abusive attacks upon themselves; second, by the shameless way in which the most violent of these press assaults used the very press they denounced for their own propaganda and glorification.

IT CAN be argued that the newspapers were dolls to open their columns for either purpose. But whether they were or not that is what they did. Looking back it seems a rather debased performance upon the part of the Administration and a not very intelligent one upon the part of the press.

Clearly the Truman Administration is not going in for this kind of stuff. It is, of course, too much for Mr. Truman to expect the almost unimpeachable press to now have for very much longer. It would not be good for him or the country to have that. Soon or late as he takes positions and makes mistakes, as all Presidents must, he is bound to encounter criticism. Some of this may be unfair. Some of it may be right. But it is refreshing to realize that a calculated and sustained attack upon the press is not going to be a Truman policy.

There was never any sincerity in that policy and not much sense.

THIS does not mean that the general assault has been entirely abandoned. It still retains its popularity with the extreme left-wing extremists. Some of these have begun to use their fingers in the press. They are not yet ready to make a full-scale assault, but they are beginning to make a few tentative moves.

Reason: Clinton P. Anderson, the new agriculture secretary and head boss. He will urge the Army to buy his chickens from the surplus mid-west area where there is plenty of meat and poultry, instead of from the mid-western states of Delaware, Maryland and Virginia which supply the bulk of poultry to New York City and other metropolitan areas.

Costa Rica Sets Pace The state department hopes, privately of course that other Latin American nations will follow the lead set by Costa Rica and donate aid for the construction of new embassies and legations.

Even in countries where factories have been adequate increased activity has placed a premium on available building space. In view of the general loss around the world of the post-war era will bring increased business, improved quarters are hoped for.

Since the United States has contributed heavily to the welfare and prosperity of the good neighbor countries, a gesture such as Costa Rica would make help the democratic world when it goes before Congress for additional funds.

One of the biggest headaches facing the Allied leaders is what to do with German industry. Countless factories, equipped in working condition despite the terrific aerial bombardment, are still in operation. And they are armed with modern weapons and other materials useful only in war.

Some leaders are worried that unless these factories are destroyed or moved out of Germany, schemes in the Reich will begin stirring up for another war perhaps 20 or 30 years hence.

Solving that problem will bring on another one, however. German factory workers of the present generation can't learn to be farmers overnight.

Some workable economy will have to be inaugurated to prevent millions of Germans from starving. Italy is in bad shape, too. Look like the leaders of Russia, Great Britain and the United States have some sleepless nights ahead.

TO THE SOCIALIST Prime Minister Churchill, spending his campaign for a Conservative victory and defeat of the socialist program of the Laborites, makes this succinct observation: "I declare to you that no socialist system can be established without a political police. No socialist government conducting the entire life and industry of the country could afford to allow free, sharp or violent expression of public discontent. They would have to fall back on some sort of Gestapo."

Mr. Churchill is only reminding Britons of what history has proved. Socialism or Communism can be nothing else than totalitarianism. Totalitarianism can be nothing else than Dictatorship. When the State makes supreme and the individual submerged, when the State directs all personal activity, then individual freedom goes, with individual initiative.

It cannot be otherwise. So long as the son remains dependent upon the father, he must be obedient to the father or lose his support. When (Continued on Page Seven)

Pullmans For Civilians Becoming Rarer
Bigger Supply Of Poultry Is Seen Soon
German Industry Cause Of Big Headache

By HELEN ESSARY
(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, July 14.—If you have to travel west, you had better be prepared to sleep in a sitting or standing position.

Sleepers for civilians will be a rarity for some time to come. The Army is taking over most of the Pullmans to move millions of soldiers to the Pacific. Already civilian sleeper service between points less than 450 miles apart has been halted.

The pinch will hurt most on lines west of Chicago, but it is not going to be any picnic on lines elsewhere either, because of movement to and from homes in every state on 30-day furloughs.

Best estimates are that by late this summer and fall some 350,000 soldiers will be in transit daily. And in many cases wives and children will be traveling with them.

The Office of Defense Transportation has warned civilians to expect traveling except when it is absolutely necessary, but naturally many persons will not heed the warning.

This you will see more and more people stranded in railroad stations, and the airlines are expecting an increasingly heavy load, so they will not be able to help the public very much.

Take Vacations Near Home West people will take their vacations near home. It may be tough on people with plenty of money and plenty of time, but that is the way it is going to be for some time to come.

The trouble is there will not be much relief in sight until six months or so after the Japanese war ends because the Army will be busy then bringing the boys back home.

Despite the growing shortage of poultry and live birds, market quotations in that food, water for the civilian supply to increase within the next month or so, particularly in the eastern seaboard states.

He will urge the Army to buy his chickens from the surplus mid-west area where there is plenty of meat and poultry, instead of from the mid-western states of Delaware, Maryland and Virginia which supply the bulk of poultry to New York City and other metropolitan areas.

Future Status Of King Leopold Being Discussed

ST. WOLFGANG, Austria, July 14.—(INS)—Discussions between King Leopold III and high-ranking Belgian officials as to the monarch's future status were joined today by Queen Mother Elizabeth, recently reported to have advised her son: "Be a king."

The latest of a series of conferences in which Leopold has resisted the abdication demands of Belgium's government in Brussels was attended also by Foreign Minister Paul Henri Spaak, who arrived with the queen mother.

Also present at the conference were Leopold's German prisoners of war, his brother, Prince Regent Charles. There was no indication what trend these latest discussions might take.

Bastille Day Of France Is Hailed

WASHINGTON, July 14.—(INS)—Acting Secretary of State Joseph C. Grew today hailed France's first Bastille Day since her liberation by saying that France has again "taken her illustrious place in a world of free nations founded on law and justice."

In a short wave broadcast, Grew described free Paris as a symbol of "the triumph of the rights of man in the victory of the United Nations."

"We in the United States have consistently looked forward to the re-establishment on the continent of Europe of a strong and democratic France, a France that will continue to play the spiritual role in western history that has always been one of her greatest contributions to civilization."

THE PARENT

would be trained to avoid only the fireplace (which had no fire then). The training occurred during the brief periods he was set free to creep on the floor. It took just seven slappings of his hands over a period of six days to accomplish the training which has been permanent.

He was not left on the floor on any day after he had encountered more than two slaps. The purpose was to avoid too long series of pain while making sure he always associated touching the edge of the fireplace with instant pain. He heard NO just once when his hands were slapped. Later, he gradually learned in like manner to avoid a few other forbidden things. Today he has a pretty high regard for the word NO, which, of course, he rarely hears.

More Freedom

Now, at 18 months, he spends longer and longer periods in freedom indoors and out, though not for long periods beyond a watchful eye. He also spends some short periods at amusing himself in his playpen. For several months he has enjoyed playing nursery rhymes and short stories read from illustrated books, and has sat to listen as long as 29 minutes at a stretch. Also he, lately, has learned to make a tower as high as his head from blocks with single ones on end, exercising great care at making them stand and smiling and shouting with glee at the tower he has built all alone. As he gains more success at creative play, he needs to hear fewer prohibitions.

Both these little children are about the happiest and most enjoyed youngsters I have ever known. I am sure that one reason for their happiness is that, having learned the meaning of NO (rarely heard), they encounter so few annoyances from their parents and grandparents.

SEEDS AND SKINS

It seems that in our use of the various fruits, vegetables and melons we waste some of the valuable parts.

The skins and seeds of many of these things contain substances which are highly beneficial.

If the foods are eaten raw, it is necessary that the skins be carefully and thoroughly washed.

Some people like melon seeds as well as the pulp. A real apple fan eats skin, core and seeds.

The seeds may be boiled and added to the mashed squash.

It is a good idea to eat the skins of boiled or baked potato if you can.

Peeling tomatoes, carrots and cucumbers probably takes away a large part of their value.

The primary colors are blue, red and yellow. These are the fundamental colors by which all other colors of the chromatic scale can be produced.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUZZLES

The citizen is dependent on the State for his support. The State is not a super-wise infallible creature but a political organization of men with human motives and ambitions.

ment merely by naming it Socialist or Communism is to ignore human nature. Acceptance of totalitarian rule, under whatever name, is a confession by the individual that some politician or group of politicians is more concerned than himself about his welfare and better qualified than himself to conduct the way of life. It is a confession of belief that a reverse of impractical theories, subject to the same selfish impulses and the same tendency to error as other human beings, can manage industry, business, agriculture and transportation, through some magic, undefined formula, better than the individuals who made these institutions and who have a legitimate interest in their success.

For the lazy, the thrifless, the parasitical, the unambitious, Socialism or Communism may appear the easiest way of life. It is the logical government for the moochers, the "gimmies" and the grafters. To the self-reliant, the upright, independent and the aspiring there is no hope, no future in either. No form of government can give something for nothing. And the price of dependency invariably is slavery.

Commercial planting of tropical rubber plants in the Florida Everglades would not be practical, the Agriculture Department reports after extensive investigation.

"And The Dove of Peace Will Come..."

Yes, Peace will come as it has come in all wars. And just as your own forefathers found strength in those other wars to carry on and do their duty, so can you receive courage, hope and strength by attending church services.

Declare Allied Forces Can Land On Japan Easily

WASHINGTON, July 14.—(INS)—The veteran amphibious warfare expert who put troops under Gen. Douglas MacArthur ashore 36 times in the last two years said today that Allied forces could land in the Japanese homeland or in China "without difficulty."

The statement was made by Vice Admiral Daniel E. Barbey of Portland, Ore.

"We can land on Japan or China without difficulty because we can concentrate overwhelming naval gunfire and air power so it will be absolutely impossible for a defending force to stop us," Barbey said.

The veteran amphibious warfare expert said that one of the most important and hazardous phases of Pacific operations was that of minesweepers. He added that "those boys" deserve a lot of credit.

Barbey said the greatest sweeping job was clearing mines from an 8,000 square mile area in the Philippines and northern Borneo over a five-month period.

During that period approximately 75 minesweepers cleaned up 1,500 mines in various passages and harbors in the Far East.

Barbey said the Japanese mines were quite simple to sweep up and were not as good as American mines.

POSSIBLE END OF STRIKE

AKRON, O., July 14.—(INS)—Strikers who have shut down the Akron plants of the Firestone Tire & Rubber Company since July 1 met today to decide on a possible return to work.

Officers of Local 7, CIO-United Rubber Workers, called the meeting to hear a report on the War Labor Board's threat to remove union benefits unless production of war materials is resumed by Monday.

MUSIC FOR GITS

NEW YORK.—(INS)—GIs who like classical music better than any will be well served when a gift of 83,335 albums of records from the Firestone Rubber Co. is split up in some 3,000 USO clubs here and overseas. It was estimated the gift will provide two years and seven months of music without repeating a record. The war should be over by then.

OLD FAITHFULS

HQ. U. S. AIR SERVICE COMMAND IN FRANCE.—(INS)—Battle-weary bombers, no longer fit to carry the heavy loads incident to long-range work are now being utilized on less dangerous missions, according to Brig. Gen. Joseph T. Morris, maintenance chief of the U. S. Air Service Command in Europe. Fifteen flak-scarred B-17s have already been modified by ASC maintenance men to be used as a weather squadron.

LETTERS TO THE NEWS

(Letters intended for this column must be signed with name and address of writer.)

"EXPORT DREAMS"

The New Castle News.

New Castle, Pa.

To the Editor: In the nine months since we came to town I haven't happened to see any "Letters to the Editor" or public forum column in your paper. However, I have several times felt the inclination to respond, favorably or unfavorably, to your editorials. So here goes on one of today's.

Arrest your editorial, "Export Dreams." Why can't our exports increase to $12-15 billion. That will still be a minor part of the $100-130 billion national income that has been mentioned for postwar. There are those who also say peace is a dream, but does that mean the rest of us should give up the idea that peace is real and that it is worth working for?

The fact that we did only $4-5 billion of exporting in the boom twenties means nothing except that we were then on a largely internal economy. Exporting was a small part of our business. So was importing, because we had such high tariffs then that other countries could not afford to sell here competitively, and our people would not pay the price wanted plus import duty.

However, there are many articles of world commerce that we would like to buy from abroad so long as import tariffs do not prohibit. The reciprocal trade act makes it easier to buy some things from abroad. If we do buy abroad other countries will have the foreign exchange (an important requirement if we are not to "loan them the money to buy with") a attempt to lift ourselves on our own bootstraps) with which in turn to buy from us the things we can make best, e. g. autos, radios, planes, tractors, machinery, etc.

Result: we sell more and other countries sell more—both have more goods and better standard of living. Everybody happy.

Some Confusion In Air Mail Rates

In his talk to New Castle Kiwanis Wednesday Postmaster William R. Hanna asked citizens to see that the proper postage is placed on air mail letters, mail for men in service being returned to the sender and delaying dispatch of these letters, if overweight. The rate to men overseas is six cents per one-half ounce.

Mention was not made of the air mail rates in this country, which is eight cents per ounce, regardless of whether the mail is going to men in service or civilians.

HAS NOW OCCUPIED ALL POLICE RANKS

Detective John G. Moore has now served in every phase of the city police department having taken over the duties of chief for today because W. G. McMullen, detective chief, was out of the city on business and Chief Robert D. Hanna is on vacation. Moore started his career as a motorcycle policeman, was later a patrolman, served and has served temporarily as sergeant, lieutenant and as acting chief of detectives.

SIX HUNDRED IN POOL ON FRIDAY

Approximately 600 young persons swam in the Mayor's Recreation committee's pool in Neshannock creek Friday, according to Cecil F. Suber, general chairman, who has been working tirelessly with the mayor to make the pool a success. The water is approximately four feet deep at the control gate. Some parents took their children to the site at the foot of South Mercer street, where they played in the sand.

GARBAGE TOSSERS TO BE PUNISHED

Mayor John P. Haven today warned that any person caught throwing any garbage or other material in the Neshannock creek, upon conviction, will be fined not less than $25.00. "Young people now have a place in which they can swim in clean water. We propose to keep the water free of contamination," he stated.

Luther M. Piler Killed In Pacific

Former Well-Known New Castle Man Dies When Prisoner-Of-War Ship Is Sunk

Word has been received here that the U. S. Navy has announced the death of Chief Pharmacist Mate Melvin Piler, former well-known New Castle man, in the Pacific area.

Chief Petty Officer Piler was taken prisoner while serving in the U. S. Navy at the Cavite Navy Yard, in the Philippines. He was held captive there at Bilbid prison camp No. 3 in the Philippines until November 11, 1944, when he with others was placed aboard a Jap transport which later was attached to a Jap convoy. Unmarked, the ship was sunk in the China Sea by Allied torpedoes on November 24. There were 1,800 Americans, who perished in this sinking.

Piler was a well-known athlete, and while stationed in Washington, D. C., played on the Navy Hospital baseball team. He is survived by his widow, now residing in California, and two brothers, Schuyler C. Piler, of Washington, D. C., and Charles Kriner of Butler. Prior to enlisting in 1920, he was employed by the B. and O. railroad company here, and resided in the Seventh Ward.

Friday, Thirteenth Club Has Meeting

Members of the Friday, the Thirteenth club, which has a dinner meeting when this supposedly awesome event occurs, gathered at the cottage of R. L. Boyd, past commander of Perry S. Gaston post American Legion, for their occasional meeting. Clarence S. Jarrett was chairman of the evening and treated the boys to a real feed. The succeeding hours were spent in informal pleasures. A. A. Jones, past commander of Harry L. McBride post, V. P. W. was elected chairman for the next meeting, which will not be until September, 1946.

MEMO TO VETERANS: $107,307.37 WE MAKE G. I. HOME LOANS

The G. I. Bill of Rights provided for very liberal Home Loans for returning veterans, but, in its early days, the processing of these loans was often slow and puzzling.

The experience gained in processing and placing more than $100,000.00 worth of G. I. Loans has given FIRST FEDERAL the necessary "know how" to be of real assistance to you in the handling of your G. I. Loan application or answering your questions regarding G. I. Home Loans.

WHAT WILL V-J DAY MEAN TO YOUR MODE OF LIFE?

To all of us it will mean surcease from a terrible war, the return of our men from battle, a lessening of necessary war time restrictions, a beginning towards a peacetime world. To motor transportation it will mean more and better equipment, more efficient deliveries, quicker handling, but—actually V-J Day and the days to follow will merely mean the transition from a good system of transportation to a better one.

Out of the war have come lessons in operation that mean speed and economy to every American. Lessons that will show results in the transportation of hairpins and farm crops, chewing gum and heavy machinery.

Pat Seerey Hits
Three Homers As Indians Top Yanks

By LES CONKLIN

NEW YORK, July 14—The lovely Cleveland Indians bobbed up today with a pair of home run twins who have ruined the New York Yankees and whose slugging may yet give the Indians something to say about the outcome of the American league race.

One of the twins is Pat Seerey, an outfielder who hasn't been good enough to play for the Indians regularly. He got a chance yesterday because a fellow outfielder had been injured. And all Pat did to the Yanks was to hit three home runs and a triple. His circuit blows were belted against three different pitchers. And in the ninth inning with a chance to tie the mark of hitting four homers in a game, he drove a vicious liner that was speared.

Indians Win

Seerey drove in eight runs, and his total base mark was one below the record of 16. His partner, Jeff Heath, hit two homers. He had subdued the Yanks with a homer the day before. To add insult to injury, Pitcher Steve Gromek got four hits and was credited with the 16 to triumph.

The Yanks dropped to a third-place tie with the Boston Red Sox, who belted the league-leading Tigers again, 5 to 1, behind Dave Ferris. In registering his 15th victory, the champion pitcher of both circuits fanned Hank Greenberg twice.

Senators Climb

Washington climbed to within two and one-half games of the slipping Tigers by noosing out the Chicago White Sox in the ninth inning, 3 to 2.

The St. Louis Browns scored two runs in the eleventh inning to beat the Philadelphia Athletics, 4 to 2. In the national league the pacesetter, Chicago Cubs, blanked the Boston Braves, 2 to 0, behind Ray Prim's four-hit pitching.

Cards Win Two

The Cards took second place away from Brooklyn by winning both ends of a night doubleheader from the New York Giants, 14 to 3 and 4 to 1, while the Dodgers were losing.

Cincinnati noosed out the Dodgers in the ninth, 6 to 5. The Phillies and Pirates finished a game suspended on June 3 by the Sunday curfew law. The Phils won this one, 11 to 9, but in the regular game which followed, the Pirates won out in the ninth inning by a score of 3 to 2 on a pinch single by Jack Barrett.

FROM Darmstadt, Germany, where the Third Armored Spearhead division is located, comes a letter from First Sergeant Dan Levine, who is the Editor of the division's publication, "Trip Ticket", and in the said publication is a story about Technical Sergeant Joseph V. Cooper, this city. According to the story he is the best athlete in the battalion and is a member of the team in softball that is leading the division. He is at the head of the batting list and hopes to carry the team to the theater's title. Joe holds the Croix de Guerre, has 83 points and hopes to get back as soon as possible with the New Castle Reds. He is also well known as a basketball player.

Piscatorial devotees have requested Mayor John F. Haven for a screen on the flood gate at the Mayor's pool to prevent fish from flowing down the Neshannock when any section of the gate is open. In discussing the new pool with His Honor, the Mayor, the latter told us that life-guards will cost the committee $400, hence it will be necessary to impose a small charge on those who use the bath-house.

There is one certainty — the crowd in swimming Thursday and Friday demonstrated the committee is doing something worthwhile with money donated by Mr. and Mrs. John Public for young folk. Forty thousand have danced in the Recreation center and the Swing Lobby and associated groups now dance twice weekly at Cascade Park. Incidentally, the writer feels elated because he was allowed by The News company to use its columns free to help Mayor John F. Haven put over the campaign to raise funds for the recreation.

Philip Joseph Cavarretta, Chicago-born member of the Chicago Cubs squad for the last 11 years, currently is hitting the ball at a terrific pace and is one of the big reasons the Cubs are up there fighting for the National League pennant. Cavarretta, who will be 28 years old July 19, is batting at a .370 pace. It's the best he's done in the major leagues. Previous to this season Cavarretta hit over 300 only one year and that was last season when he wound up with a .321 mark.

In 11 years in the majors, Cavarretta has played in over 1,150 games, made more than 1,150 hits and has a major league batting mark of .284. George Uhle, Jr., son of the former major league pitcher, recently hurled a no-hitter in a Class A sandlot league game in Cleveland. Al Libke, Red rookie, plays the outfield and also pitches. Association of Professional Ball Player of America, organized in 1924 by 10 old-time ball players in Los Angeles, now has a total membership of 4,561.

Cleveland Indians now give out an autographed group picture of the 1945 team with the score cards. Teammates of Dave "Boo" Ferris call him Dave, not Boo. Cubs are leading National loop in both hitting and fielding. Jimmy Webb, Detroit infielder, is hitting under .200. Babe Barba, formerly with A's has belted 12 homers for Minneapolis to lead the Association race. Johnny Mostil, former White Sox outfielder, is one of the teachers in a baseball clinic sponsored by Sox in Chicago. Art Houtteman, the 17-year-old kid who began the season with the Tigers, now is pitching for Buffalo.

Falcons Stop
Cardinal Spurt

After winning ten games in a row, the spurt of the fast stepping North Hill Cardinals was stopped last night in the American Legion Junior league. Tanner limiting the Cardinals to three hits, while Rhodes and Snow were touched for nine. Tanner also had three hits, including a triple.

The South Side Legion team, with Smiley hurling three-hit ball, downed the Panthers, 5-4. Smiley fanned 18 batters. Sons of Italy trimmed Second Baptists 12 to 4. Ciochi holding the Baptists to six scattered hits, while Walls and Wallace were pounded for 12. Walls hit his fourth homer of the season, among his three hits of the night.

Kirks East Siders downed the Wagner Panthers in a knockdown, drag-out affair by the score of 13 to 12. Romeo with a double, triple and homer was the leading swatman.

Responsibility For Sinking Hospital Ship Is Accepted

Sinking Of Ship In Fog Is Blamed On Radar By Government Reply

WASHINGTON, July 14.—(INS)—The United States today blamed radar for the torpedoing of the Japanese "safe conduct" relief ship Awa Maru by an American submarine last April 1.

The government accepted full responsibility for the mishap and revealed that disciplinary action is being taken against the commander who ordered the ship sunk off the coast of Formosa while it was en route to Japan from Singapore and Hong Kong.

The United States' note, dated June 29, contended the vessel was slightly off the designated safe conduct course and was travelling in a night fog. It was fully lit and properly identified the note said.

Lights Not Detected
Radar, however, was apparently unable to detect the lights according to the note, thus prompting the submarine commander to issue his torpedo order.

The note pointed out that the commander was nonetheless responsible for establishing definite identification of the vessel before giving the firing order and that he would be disciplined for his failure to do so.

The United States promised indemnity payment for the loss of the ship and personnel. There was only one survivor. The government, however, asked that the question of reparations be postponed until after the war when it will be discussed "with an attitude of complete fairness and without regard to the political situation then existing."

Willie Joyce

Defeats Ruffin

NEW YORK, July 14.—(INS)—Boxing fans today clamored for a rematch between Willie Joyce, colored lightweight of Gary, Ind., and Bobby Ruffin of Long Island City, N. Y., as a result of the extremely close decision Joyce gained over Ruffin in their 12-round bout at Madison Square Garden last night.

The deciding vote was given to Joyce on his superior aggressiveness.

SPOTLIGHT Of Today

(International News Service)

HOKKAIDO ISLAND

Hokkaido Island, northernmost of the Japanese home islands, today caught a piece of American destruction and learned that no part of Emperor Hirohito's regime is free from the retribution of war.

The island was swept by carrier aircraft of the U. S. Third Fleet, proving that Yank airmen can strike at will at points still untouched by B-29's based in the Marianas and far-ranging bombers from the Aleutians.

Hokkaido, together with northern Honshu, were hit at a time when the Jap air force was busy elsewhere and the American planes achieved what Admiral Chester W. Nimitz called "tactical surprise."

The name of this Japanese island means "north sea road." The island is the second largest in the chain, comprising more than 34,000 square miles. Nevertheless, it is less developed than Honshu and other of the Jap islands. A diamond-shaped land mass, it is traversed by a few railroads and several rivers run to the coast from a central high point.

Its main city in Hakodate, situated on a hook of land extending toward the main island of Honshu. The city serves as a port for Hokkaido's products which are shipped across the narrow Tsugaru Strait. Another important wartime service performed by Hokkaido is that three important weather stations, situated at Nemuro, Sapporo and Asahikawa, provide information for the Japanese navy and air forces.

Continuing through Sunday, July 22, the camp offers the organized activities of the young people's groups and three public preaching services daily—at 10:30 in the morning, 2:30 in the afternoon and 7:30 in the evening. Congregational singing of old-time hymns is another feature.

Besides the ministers of the district, a number of guests are present, including Rev. John MacDonald of Morgantown, W. Va.; Rev. George Gaines of San Diego, Cal.; and Carolyn Winslow of Winona Lake, Ind., a returned missionary from China. Dr. R. R. Blew, district superintendent, has charge of the camp.

Vitamin D has been found in appreciable quantities in salmon oil, fresh salmon and other salmon products.

Y Campers Are Brown And Healthy

Outdoor Activities In Sunshine Tanning Youths At Camp Rentz, Treasure Hunt Exciting

Brown and healthy campers at Camp Fred L. Rentz, situated along the banks of the beautiful Slippery Rock Creek, again enjoyed a full day of competitive mushball, volleyball, swimming, and good eating.

Something new in the way of activity was initiated last night after dark, when the whole camp engaged in a treasure-hunt. Camp Rentz resembled a buzzing beehive, with each camper hunting frantically for the hidden treasure and flashlights blinking on and off from one end of the camp to the other.

The boys in the "Director" cabin won the hunt—that is, they found the most treasure. The "director" roster is made up of Richard Evans, John Rodgers, Ray Ciseo, William Voorhes, Allen Lewis, Fred Cooney, Jerry Berkstresser, Bruce Walrath, Sam Fitzgerald and their councillor, John Kolunje.

The boys in the Kate Rentz cabin had the honor of finding the Treasure Chest which consisted of the last note.

Today finds a ball game scheduled for a picked team of campers against a team of "Y" boys who are not in camp this week.

Farms In State Show Increase

WASHINGTON, July 14.—(INS)—A spot tabulation in the 1945 census of agriculture, made public today by the census bureau, department of commerce, showed that in six Pennsylvania counties there were 9,622 farms in 1945, compared to 8,700 in 1940.

The farm acreage in the counties shows an increase of 47 in the five-year period, the census data revealed. Despite the gains in farm acreage the report showed a marked tendency toward smaller farms in Pennsylvania and New Jersey.
